Expecting Greater
(Pt. 2)

“God sticks his head out of heaven. He looks around. He’s looking for someone not stupid - one man, even, God-expectant, just one God-ready woman.”
Psalm 14:2 (The Message)

INTRODUCTION

We all have expectations, they’re for the next big movie coming out or taking the next step in your walk with God (whatever that looks like). Expectation says a lot about us because it paints our vision of the future, whether good or bad. Having high expectations for what God can do brings anticipation, excitement, eagerness, faith, hope etc. Low expectation can bring us anguish, nervousness, or anxiety and fear. Determining the expectations we have of God will affect how we see Him and how He interacts with not only us, but the whole world and everyone in it. Let’s keep our expectation high in the things of God, and pursue the adventures he has for us!

ENGAGE

- Expectation points to the depth of our calling, our inner condition, and our own revelation of God.
- What do your expectations of God say about Him?
- Are these expectations painting an accurate view of God and his promises?
- If someone were to base their understanding of God on the expectations you have of Him, what would He look like?
- Read Jeremiah 29:11:
 - When reading this passage, what expectation is being built for your future?
 - How does this expectation for your future determine how you live today?
 - Do these expectations shape the way you pursue the call of God on your life?

PRAY

- High expectations in the things of God and the will He has for your life.
- For Pastors Brian and Bobbie as they lead our church globally.
